At Unscheduled Meeting Tonight School Board May Join Junior College District

The Carmel Unified School District Board, meeting tonight at 7:00 o'clock at the high school in hastily called special session, has the power, by simple resolution, irrevocably to commit this district to become a part of a Monterey Peninsula Junior College District and to purchase the Monterey Peninsula College land, plant and equipment.

There is strong indication that the board will use this power.

In the election that will follow, Carmel School District voters will not be able to make their

U. S. Contributes $97,270 To Carmel School Construction

Carmel Unified School District will receive a $97,270 assist for its building program from the federal government, the school board was happy to learn at its meeting last week.

This is not a hand out. It is federal government's assumption of its share of cost of providing school housing for its own kids. The allocation was based on number of federally connected pupils in the Carmel schools and their projected increase, at a rate $685 per pupil.

The school board authorized Superintendent Stuart Mitchell to apply for $216,000 on November 13. On March 3, Ralph Chopin, field survey representative for the U. S. Government made an investigation here. His recommendation has been reviewed in Washington and San Francisco headquarters, and the appropriations have been made.

The money will be used to build four new classrooms, an office and covered corridors at Woods School, and a multi-use room at River. The bond issue money that was to be used for this construction can now be put to other needed capital improvements.

First on the list of suggestions for popular expenditures: finish the baseball field at the high school. The mothers want the play field at River School finished; everybody wants a new roof for Sunset School but it doesn't qualify... it's classed as a repair.

Patterson To Take Rezoning Fight To Superior Court

Steve Patterson's one-man battle to commercialize Garrapata Creek now moves into superior court.

Monday the county board of supervisors supported their county planning commission in denying Mr. Patterson's request for reclassification of his property on the Big Sur Road from agricultural-residential to commercial. Mr. Patterson wishes to build a restaurant, bar and motel on the choice piece of shore land overlooking the proposed Garrapata Beach State Park.

According to his attorney, Ralph Thompson, Mr. Patterson will seek a building permit from the county building inspector, and when he is refused, will petition for a writ of mandate—ask the court to require the issuance of the permit.

He contends that the supervisors acted unreasonably in denying him his reclassification.

will felt because the issue will be decided by a simple majority of the entire peninsula vote. In any such election, the decision lies with Monterey.

The irritant that has stimulated the school board's sudden feverish interest in a junior college district comprising Monterey, Carmel and Pacific Grove School Districts is a bill, proposed by Senator Fred Farr, which would hike junior college per-pupil capital outlay contributions of outside junior college district schools from $150 to $350, this in addition to the per pupil tuition which is based on apportionment of operating expenses. If the bill passes, Carmel and Pacific Grove's taxes would increase an estimated 13 cents.

Pacific Grove school board, meeting Tuesday night, decided it would be cheaper to form a Monterey Peninsula Junior College District than to continue to pay tuition for their students attending Monterey Junior College. It went on record as favoring the formation of the district but put off formal action until noon tomorrow, giving public opinion two days.

Pacific Grove and Monterey anticipate that Carmel school board will take action tonight.

The procedure does not provide the local study sessions and public hearing safeguards of a re-districting action.

Each of the three school district boards passes a resolution asking the state department of education to form a junior college district, specifying the territory—in this case the three high school districts of Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel.

The state department of education makes a survey of the area to determine if a junior college district is needed, charging the cost of the survey to the various high schools (average per school $250).

If the survey shows that a junior college is needed the state superintendent of schools instructs the county superintendent of schools to call an election. A simple majority carries the election.

The entire power of decision lies with the school board to pass the resolution. After that it lies with the state department of education to call the election; then it lies with Monterey's greater population to out vote Carmel.

Carmel Board should consider these factors:

The bill has not been passed. If it does pass it may emerge considerably modified. No study has been made as to whether it is actually more economical for Carmel to participate in a peninsula college district than to continue under the tuition system, even if the capital outlay contribution

Willcox To Ask Council For Area Plan Appointee

Planning Commission Chairman George Willcox is to ask the city council to approve an area planning study committee, and appoint a Carmel planning commissioner to serve on the committee.

A resolution to this effect was passed last night at a meeting of the steering committee, forming an area planning commission, under Chairman Dr. Talcott Bates.

The area planning study committee is to explore costs; establish a program; and define policy of an area planning commission for the Monterey Peninsula.

The Carmel planning commissioner appointed to the proposed study committee will report findings of the group to the city council. The council will analyze the information. Evaluation of this analysis in each of the five peninsula cities will determine whether or not the Monterey Peninsula will have an area planning commission, according to Planning Commission Chairman George Willcox.

MGM Studios Lends Carmel Youth Follies Oklahoma Costumes

Youth Follies' costumes selected at MGM studios were brought back to Carmel on Monday by Bonnie and Jack Giles, co-producers of the show and Youth Center directors. Bing Crosby made it possible for them to choose these costumes to be worn on April 26-27 by Carmel Youth Center members in their annual fund raising variety show in Sunset School Auditorium.

Cancan girls in the Youth Follies will wear costumes from the Showboat production. The mixed chorus in the For Me and My Gal number will appear in outfits used in filming Oklahoma. Other performers will be clad in costumes previously worn by Frank Sinatra, Jimmy Durante, Bob Hope, Vic Damone, Miltz Gaynor and Carol Haney.

Lloyd Weer is acting as coordinator again for the acts in the eighth Youth Follies given by the high school age members of the Youth Center.

MONEY MISSING

Mrs. Marian Ferri, Corona Road, Carmel Highlands, reported to the Sheriff's office yesterday afternoon that she was missing two checks for $1,000 and coins from a collection, which she had placed in a safe for security.

Joseph F. Carithers assumed his new duties as Assistant Western Representative of the National Parks Association on April 1. In October, 1953, C. Edward Graves was appointed Western Representative of this non-profit organization, established in 1919 to guard America's heritage of scenic wilderness. The work has grown rapidly and has now culminated in the appointment of a full-time Assistant for the Western Office, which is in Carmel.

Mr. Carithers, who with his family has taken a house in Carmel Valley, comes here from Tucson, Arizona, where he has lived for the past 27 years. During World War II he served with the Corps of Engineers in the Pacific area and with the Occupation Forces in Japan. On his return he attended the University of Arizona and in 1949 became Superintendent of Tucson Mountain Park. This is a very large county park of some 30,000 acres, the largest county park in the country. It is set in the midst of one of America's finest saguaro forests. It is the home of the Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum.

A few years ago he organized with the help of a few friends the Arizona State Parks Association. Its objective was to put a bill through the Arizona Legislature creating the Arizona Parks Department. Arizona had been one of the very few states in the country without such a department. This was finally accomplished a few weeks ago by Act of Legislature. A few days ago Mr. Carithers received a scroll of appreciation from Governor Ernest McFarland for his work in initiating and carrying forward this project.

During the last three years he has been president of the Tucson Audubon Society. He has also been a member of the Advisory Council of the Trustees for Conservation, a nation-wide organization that did much to help win the Echo Park dam battle. He has been very active in many different types of conservation.

MASONIC MEETING CANCELED

The meeting scheduled by Carmel Lodge 680 F&AM for Friday night has been canceled.

Former Carmel Girl Admits Robbery On Ocean Avenue

Elizabeth DeAmaral of Seaside, formerly of Carmel, admitted to Carmel police at noon today that she and Carol Provo Truex of Glendale tripped and robbed Mrs. Sylvia Campiglia of Riverside on Ocean Avenue on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Campiglia was walking along the north side of Ocean Avenue, just east of San Carlos Street, when one of the girls tripped her while the other, pretending to assist her to rise, grabbed her purse instead.

An Army lieutenant heard Mrs. Campiglia's cries and followed the girls north on San Carlos Street to Sixth where he told police they climbed into a 1956 Mercury with the license number LDU 968.

Carmel police traced the car to the mother of Mrs. Truex in Glendale, who said her son-in-law and daughter were visiting in this area. Further police work led to the apprehension of Elizabeth DeAmaral who admitted to the theft.

Mrs. Campiglia said her purse contained about $20 in cash, $100 in traveller's checks and personal papers at the time of the robbery. The discarded, empty purse was found later but the contents have not, as yet, been recovered.

Mrs. Truex and her husband had been spending a week on the Monterey Peninsula. Apparently alarmed, after the robbery, they left this area. Mrs. Truex' mother reported to Carmel police she had received a telephone call from her daughter this morning asking if police had made inquiries.

Mrs. Truex was taken into custody by Glendale police early this afternoon.

FOUR-WAY TRACK MEET AT CARMEL HIGH SATURDAY

Track teams from Hollister, Gilroy and San Lorenzo will swarm onto the Carmel oval this Saturday afternoon for a meet which will answer some questions concerning the Little Seven meet which decides the B-league championship. Host Carmel figures to win the varsity division of this Saturday's meet with Hollister providing most of the competition. The Padres have already clipped Gilroy this season and the San Lorenzo thinclads are making their first try at track competition. Hollister packs the power in the lightweight division, having three performers in every event and equipped with terrific speed in the flat races.

Carmel's small varsity squad made a fine showing at the King City Invitational Meet last Saturday, garnering seven points to finish ahead of such good ones as Palo Alto, Monterey and Pacific Grove. Hampton Stewart tied for first place in the high-jump and Don Petty picked up second place in the shot-put.

In Saturday's meet, Coach Fred Rainer expects first-place performances from Bert Macahilig in the sprints, Phil White in the pole-vault, Don Petty in the shot and discus, Hampton Stewart in the high-jump and 440, and Art Wilkerson in the 880. Other Padre performers who should add to the point total are: Clyde Klaumann, shot-put, 440, and relay; Dave Tobiasen, hurdles; Phil White, hurdles and pole-vault; Dan Richardson, mile and high-jump; Ron Leidig, high jump; Gary Bradburn, hurdles and relay; Bob Kimball, mile; Dave Vincent, discus; and Mike McCormick in the 880. Top lightweight performers have been Frank Wallace in the 660, Jerry Stuefloten in the sprints, John Eidkman in the high-jump, and Joey Foster in the 1320.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

TRYOUTS SATURDAY AT 1 P.M.

President Bill Woolsey of the neophyte Carmel Little League has slated another tryout session for 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Little League field just below the Mission. Last Saturday's workout under the direction of Coaches McCreery, Rosenkranz, Baxter, and Miller drew over 160 candidates and all of them had a chance to show what they could do with a glove, ball and bat. Youngsters planning to participate in the Little League should bring a certified copy of their birth certificate to the tryout session.

PADRES DROP GAMES TO GONZALES AND PG

The old bugaboo of baseball teams wherever the game is played, walks and errors, plagued the Carmel High varsity in the last two outings as the Padres dropped decisions to Gonzales and Pacific Grove. Loss of the two league games shoves the red and gray horsehiders perilously close to the bottom of the league standings and makes this Friday's game with King City a battle for the cellar.

Gonzales thumped the Padres, 7 to 3, in a game which was locked up tight for five innings when the hosts exploded for five runs to ice the contest. The Spartans got off to a two run lead in the second inning when Conway issued a pair of walks and the Padre infield was unable to control the well-placed Spartan bunts. Neil Giarratana put Carmel back in the game in the first of the fourth when he lashed out a screaming triple with two men on base. Giarratana was thrown out at the plate trying to stretch the triple into a home run. Tim O'Shea followed with another triple and later scored on the pitcher's overthrow of third. Cim Conway and Tim O'Shea shared the hurling duties at Gonzales, giving up five hits between them but doling out six walks to set the stage for the Spartan scoring threats. Malcolm Burdis, Carmel outfielder, was the outstanding hitter of the game, connecting for a pair of hits in three trips to the plate.

Tuesday afternoon, the Padres were generous hosts to rival Pacific Grove, handing the Breakers a 12-7 victory as the porous Carmel infield made 10 errors and pitcher Tim O'Shea donated eight free trips to first. Jerry Millette, Pacific Grove shortstop, was the offensive star of the game, scoring four runs as he shook up the Carmel infield with his daring base-running. Charley Dawson and Neil Giarratana swung the big bats for the Padres, Dawson hitting two for three and Giarratana powering a triple with the bases loaded. Joe Mason turned in an outstanding job at his catcher's position, throwing well to the bases and doing a yeoman job of backing up first base to stop the wild infield throws.

MONTEREY BASEBALL TOURNAMENT STARTS

The Second Monterey Invitational Baseball Tournament gets underway next Monday morning with Carmel High meeting the Santa Cruz Cardinals on the Monterey Peninsula College diamond at 9:30 a.m. Over at the El Estero diamond, the Salinas Cowboys square off against the Gonzales Spartans in the other first-round game. At 12:30 p.m., Pacific Grove and James Lick (San Jose) meet at the MPC diamond while host Monterey and Watsonville have at it on the El Estero field.

On Tuesday, the winners of the Monday games will play in the morning and the championship tilt will be held at 3:30 p.m. Second round consolation games will be played Monday afternoon with the final slated for 12:30 on Tuesday.

Carmel High went to the finals of the tournament last year, losing to Monterey after a hard-fought endurance contest. Off their strong pitching and wealth of experienced personnel, Monterey figures to successfully defend the title but will receive stern opposition from Salinas and James Lick. Lick has one of the finest baseball teams in the San Jose area and is burning to win this tournament. Salinas has a three-deep pitching staff and this will be a big help to the Cowboys in a two-day tourney.

Surprise team of the tournament could be the Gonzales Spartans who have five experienced pitchers and a team which is well-seasoned in the Babe Ruth League tournament play. Coach Buddy Gutierrez is high on his team's chances and figures the big ones will have to beat the Spartans to take home the gold.

Charles Strosnider

Charles Milton Strosnider, eight years old, died on Monday morning in a local hospital of leukemia. He was the son of Commander C. M. Strosnider Sr. (USN ret.) and Mrs. Strosnider of Tevis Road and Atherton Way.

Charles was born in Washington, D.C., on December 16, 1948. Besides his parents he is survived by four sisters, Lesley, Robin, Sandra and Grace Strosnider; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Ames of Belpre, Ohio; and his maternal grandparents, Mrs. Grace McCallum of Boston, Massachusetts, and Miami, Florida, and John R. Paul of Sydney, Australia.

Private funeral services, conducted by the Reverend Angus Dun, Jr., were held on Wednesday morning in All Saints' Episcopal Church. Burial took place in Cemetery El Encinal in Monterey.

Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Charles may do so in the form of donations for leukemia research to be sent to the Monterey County Cancer Society, Box 1028, Monterey.

The Time Has Come

by Kippy Stuart

To be welcomed home after a long trip is always a pleasure, but to be welcomed home by a wild bird is something else again. For over four years I have had the joy of friendship with two bluejays. These two birds have nested in my trees and raised their families within sight of my living room windows, year after year. As the seasons move onward the two birds' behaviors change drastically. Early in the year, the male bird is one of the ornery males one reads about. He is sassy, cocky and as arrogant as they come. He bosses the lady about, refuses to share a single tit-bit with her. But you just wait! The mating season is just around the corner and then...

I arrived home, this last trip, in the evening after birds' bedtime. The next morning, far too early for me, came a tap-tap on my bedroom window. I didn't have to be told that my visitor was Petie, my male bluejay. I also knew that I had no chance for a longer nap, as tap-tap would continue until I showed myself. So, reluctantly, I climbed out of bed and raised my window shade. There was Petie, all right, and the moment he saw me he let fly one of his cacophonous challenges. He split the air with his angry cry, demanding attention. Far in the distance, perched upon a tree was Maggie, the lady Bluejay. The moment she saw me, she too made a bee line for my window, only to be chased away by her unchivalrous mate. I thought to myself, that's odd. Spring is here and where is Maggie's dander?

Through the winter, Operation Bluejay, has become a ritual. As

Thomas O'Brien

Thomas Edward O'Brien Sr. died on Monday morning in a local hospital after a brief illness. He came from Texarkana, Arkansas, eight months ago to live in Carmel Valley.

Mr. O'Brien was born in November 1894 in Mississippi. He was a retired bookkeeper.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Lela O'Brien of Texarkana; two sons, Richard J. O'Brien of Monterey and Thomas E. O'Brien of Waco, Texas; his mother, Mrs. Alice O'Brien of Texarkana, and a grandson, Richard Joseph O'Brien of Monterey.

Funeral services were held in Texarkana. Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel was in charge of local arrangements.

I move through my house, Petie follows, tapping each window as he passes. As I open my back door, Petie does an air saraband slowly about my head. Then comes his dive as he snatches the peanut from my hand. Away he flies, not to eat the nut, but to bury the thing in my garden. While he is occupied with his nonsense, I can call Maggie and if she is quick she can grab her quota.

This morning, Maggie must have known Spring was here and no one had told Petie, for I witnessed one of Nature's mysteries. All of a sudden I saw a flash of blue as Maggie left her treetop and catapulted upon her husband. She gave Petie a going over that would have done justice to a fishwife. All in a few seconds, I saw Petie turn from the arrogant male to the defeated Mr. Milkytoaste. He made no effort to defend himself. The two birds teetered back and forth on the railing of my gallery, a few feet from where I stood, yet they had forgotten all about the human. They argued... that is... Maggie argued and finally Petie relinquished his cherished peanut, ruffled his feathers and retreated to a far tree top. You should have seen Maggie spread herself in triumph! There she sat on my railing, defiantly giving her raucous yell, and Petie, far in the distance, answering exactly as a hen-pecked husband might answer.

I will have the fun now, for the period of the mating season, of watching Maggie lording it over

SWIMMING POOL OPEN TO PUBLIC DURING EASTER VACATION

The Carmel High swimming pool will be open to the public during the entire Easter vacation period excepting Easter Sunday. First splash in the popular swimming spa will be heard at 1:00 o'clock on Saturday, April 13, when the lifeguards open the gates for the Carmel small fry. The pool will be open from 1-4 p.m. during the vacation period and will continue to open during those hours on Saturday and Sunday until the summer vacation period starts. Cap Johnson, veteran pool engineer, has the water sparkling clean for the opening and assures all the natators the temperature in the water will hover around 75 degrees.

Swimmers must furnish their own suits and towels as rental equipment is not available at the pool. Girls are required to wear swimming caps but boys with butch haircuts can dive in sans

Cast Excellent In Petrified Forest At The Tin Barn

by Richard Brantigan

The Petrified Forest, by Robert Sherwood ran three days last week in the Tin Barn and will run for three more performances this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 11, 12 and 13. The principals, directed by Morgan Stock, are excellent. Sandra Six, as the daughter, is a stand-out; Edwin Craig, as Jason Maple, is believable in his age and the audience wishes his part were larger because he commands the stage and gives evidence of a thorough knowledge of his craft; Ed Schoon, in the part of the enigmatic Alan Squire, makes a great deal of sense out of his part.

Bill McAdams as Gramps, Jim Lewis and Boze, Mary Oxley as Paula, and Dale Skillicorn as Duke Mantee were interesting in their parts as were the other minor characters: Bill Guzules, Dick Knapp, Gary Irwin, Jim Kohout, Terri Otterson, Fred Vallier, Dan Harrington, Bob Smith, John Crawford, Alex Fafenrodt and Steve Dirk.

Some of the action scenes are particularly well done, with the business skillfully blocked out.

The general pace of the play picks up considerably after the first act and the audience interest is held until the final curtain. It is important to note here that the slow pace of Act I is the fault of Mr. Sherwood, not the M.P.C. players.

LIBRARY RECEIVES JEFFERS-KELLOGG BOOK

The library has received as a gift from a donor who wishes to remain anonymous a copy of the special limited edition of The Loving Shepherdess by Robinson Jeffers which was illustrated by Jean Kellogg with nine original etchings. Printed on heavy paper with handset type, this edition was limited to 115 copies, all of them signed by the author and the illustrator. Copies of the book have been placed in the library of Wellesley College, and in the San Francisco Museum of Fine Arts and the Museum of Modern Art of New York.

The Loving Shepherdess is to be on display in the lighted case in the main reading room of the library. From time to time, pages will be turned.

PINE SONG

*Pine in the rain on an April bed,
Springtime's a season for tears cleanly shed.
Spread your new fingers around perfumed cones
And whisper a love song in witching new tones.*

*Pine in the sun through long August-time,
Summer's a season of fragrance and rhyme.
Shimmer the day with your spears of green light
And breathe a slow anthem through soft vespere night.*

*Pine in the eve of October's flame-hour,
Autumn's the season of harvest and flower.
Wave a farewell to goldenrod Junes
And sing a gay madrigal over leaf-runes.*

*Pine in the night of December's white boast,
Winter's a season of blizzard and ghost.
Sigh a deep sigh for the dreams that must go
And dree a small weird for the shadows on snow.*

Conservation On The March

HIGHWAY BEAUTY

The conservation of highway beauty calls for a somewhat specialized field of activity among professional conservationists. Such questions as zoning at the various governmental levels and the legal aspects of property rights are somewhat technical in nature and the average voter tends to shy away from them. However, when we consider the most commonly accepted definition of conservation as "the wise use of our natural resources," we must admit that beautification of highway construction, whether considered as a matter of dollars and cents or from the more intangible viewpoint of the personal enjoyment of motorists, is very definitely within that field of interest.

Whenever a new highway is built or an old one realigned and made over, certain property values are created along its borders. The taxpayers who foot the bills have helped create these values and they should be as directly concerned with what happens to them as they are to the management and eventual disposition of our public lands. They should certainly be on their guard, above all things, against the insidious argument that property owners along newly constructed or improved highways are entitled to the benefits from them, because they had the foresight to buy the property when values were low.

In connection with the implementation of the Federal Highway Act of 1956 many bills are being considered this spring at various governmental levels to prevent the construction of billboards along the units of this system. The most serious opposition to them comes from the outdoor advertising organizations, which for some reason, unexplainable except on a financial basis, have acquired powerful legislative lobbies at Washington and at the various state capitols. Already I have heard talk from realistic legislators that it will be necessary to compromise with them in order to get any legislation passed. I am sure, however, that an aroused public could change this situation over night.

As an example of the operations of these outdoor advertisers I have recently seen a full-page advertisement in the monthly magazine of the General Federation of Women's Clubs with the heading: "Have you ever driven 65 mph under hypnosis?" The insidious argument is then developed that we should have billboards on the highways to prevent hypnosis. I wonder how many of the millions of members of the General Federation are taken in by this sanctimonious display of psychological cleverness. How many of them can escape from the hypnosis of the advertisers long enough to demand equal space for a presentation of the conservation viewpoint?

A friend of mine recently returned from his first trip in many years to the southwest desert country. His first words on greeting me were: "My gosh, I didn't realize how the billboards have been taking over our desert roadsides. You can't see the mountains in the distance for the billboards, with the advertisements of gambling resorts and various types of tourist traps."

In our state the California Roadside Council (12 Garces Drive, San Francisco) is making a valiant fight with pitifully insufficient funds against this menace. In many states there is probably no comparable organization and the billboard interests have the field to themselves. Here then is an opportunity for all groups of conservationists to send out SOS calls to public-spirited citizens.

STUDENTS GIVE RECITAL

The Carmel Studios of Music presented a recital on Sunday at the Carmel Craft Studios by beginning and intermediate students in piano and violin. There were piano solos, piano duets and violin solos.

Judy Paplow and Herbert Meyers, advanced piano students, played for the other recitalists and the audience as guest soloists.

Eda Kelsey

Mrs. Eda Kelsey died on April 5 in a local rest home. She was the widow of Henry James Kelsey who died in 1935.

Mrs. Kelsey was born in San Francisco on October 9, 1874. She came to the Monterey Peninsula in 1912 and moved to Carmel in 1919. Her home was at Fifth and Lincoln Streets.

Survivors are two sons, Ivan D. Kelsey of Carmel and Walter H. Kelsey of Pacific Grove; her sister, Mrs. George Cooper of San Jose; two grandsons, and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, officiating. Interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park, San Jose.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

Today there is a growing practice of giving books to the local library in memory of good friends who have passed away. Such gifts are especially welcome when the library is allowed to specify just what books are most needed, or are welcome to round out its present holdings in any field. Such a gift has recently been presented to this library.

It was some months ago that a rather large sum of money was given to the library for the purchase of books in memory of Edna Maris Owings, who died a short time previously. They were to be books on science, especially ornithology, because of Miss Owings' love for birds. Advice was sought by the library from authorities living in this area, and the books were ordered. A few of them were new and revised editions of much used books already in the library, but only a very few were in this category. Most of them were new to this library and not only valuable for their information, but valuable also for the beauty of their illustrations. The collection also included the three volume reference work American Men of Science which the library had been needing for some time.

It may be because we were so eager to get the collection assembled that the books seemed especially slow to arrive. A few were ordered pre-publication, and two had to be sent to the bindery after arrival because they were published in paper covers. Most of them are here now and are ready for circulation. They will be on exhibition for a time, on one of the tables in the main reading room. We wish we had a place where they could be spread out but we have no such place, so we shall have them on a table for you to look at and admire. Altogether they constitute a living monument to a woman who seems to have inspired love and respect in the hearts of all who knew her.

The names of the thoughtful donors of this memorial gift are Canon Charles A. Dowdell and Mrs. Dowdell, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Kroll, Miss Effie Kroll, Mrs. B. G. Readshaw, Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams, Mrs. Valentine Porter, Miss Ellen O'Sullivan, Mrs. Garret Henry, and Miss Aimee Doolittle. The fund given to the library by these people has not been entirely spent, and more books will be purchased as suitable ones become available.

Several of the books are notable for their illustrations. Austin Rand's American Water and Game Birds, is a large book beautifully illustrated with color photographs. The use of color photography in studying birds seems particularly apt because of its ability to capture them in motion as if poised for one fleeting second. Both drawings and photographs are used to illustrate Birds of the World by Paul Barruel. Perhaps the most beautiful of all is Menaboni's Birds by Athos and Sara Menaboni. For many years Mr. Menaboni has been noted for his paintings of birds. His work has an Audubon-like quality, with decorative natural backgrounds planned to compliment the birds themselves and form the whole into a decorative composition. When it was first published, Menaboni's Birds was said to be the most beautiful bird book since the early Audubons.

In choosing these books particular stress was placed on birds of western America because it was believed they would be most useful here on the west coast. In this group are Olip Pettingill's A Guide to Bird Finding West of the Mississippi, Richard Pough's Audubon Western Bird Guide, W. B. Alexander's Birds of the Ocean, and Russell Congdon's Our Beautiful Western Birds.

These are just a few of the books in this really good collection which has been thoughtfully provided for the people of this community in memory of Edna Maris Owings. It is hoped that many of you will come in to see them while they are on display in the reading room and that all of you will use them as occasion demands. The library is most grateful to have them in the collection.

HOME FOR WEEKEND

Warren Masten spent last weekend in Carmel visiting his mother, Mrs. Joseph Gledhill, and his brothers, Ric Masten and Donn and Lee Hare. He is stationed with the Navy at Port Hueneme until next September.

Word from Gay Masten in Washington, D. C., is that she is enjoying her job as private secretary in the Thailand division of the U. S. State department; studying French and piano; and also finding time to attend diplomatic social functions.

Remember these young-looking women? Each appeared in recent P. G. and E. advertisements which made the point that women certainly look younger than their years these days!

Of course there are many reasons for this, but one big one is modern household appliances: They've taken over most of the heavy chores that used to age women long before their time.

Frankly, we're proud of the part our company plays in all this: With P. G. and E.'s low rates for gas and electricity, you can run a houseful of appliances all day for about half the price of a lipstick!

Lester Rowntree Reports Wildflowers Good At Tehachapi

Lester Rowntree, horticulturist and writer, on California wild flowers and native shrubs, who makes her home in Carmel Highlands when she isn't off to the four corners of the state on field trips, writes the Pine Cone:

"In case you have Pine Cone readers who are wild flower hounds tell them to take the roads around Tehachapi, the worse the road, the more chance for wild flowers."

"It becomes increasingly difficult for us to have our legs of lambs and our steaks as well as wild flowers. Gates, barbed wire fences and land appropriations by the three forces have multiplied rapidly in the last few years but there still are roads that are mere tracks, trails and back-of-beyond places for the field worker with hoofs—his own or a pack animal—and a sleeping bag."

"The west side of the Tehachap reminds one of those golden days 30 years ago. The splashes of lavender gillias, yellow layias, white layias, cream cups, yes, even the sky blue of baby blue eyes in shaded creases are only daubs now where once they were painted mountain sides but they are still worth driving down from Carmel to see."

The hot dry winds of a week ago have seared much of the land and frizzled the wild flowers. More rain would extend the season. The present bloom will not last long."

She is headed for the desert and will report on the wild flower conditions around Twenty-Nine Palms next.

Krauls Sail for Islands

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kraul left Wednesday for the Hawaiian Islands. They plan to visit in Honolulu and on Kauai during the two months they are away. In Honolulu they will see their two grandsons, Sydney and David Kraul, and their son, Sydney Kraul Sr.

Mrs. Kraul was born in Hawaii and has returned several times to see members of her family still living there but it is Mr. Kraul's first trip to the Islands.

Mary Phelps

Mrs. Mary R. Phelps died on April 1 in a San Mateo hospital after a brief illness. She was born in Simsbury, Connecticut, on May 6, 1870.

Mrs. Sims came to live in Pebble Beach five years ago. She was a member of the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Survivors are a son, Philip E. Phelps of San Mateo; and her niece, Mrs. W. P. Cunningham of Pebble Beach.

Private funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon in the Sullivan Funeral Home in San Mateo.

Glenn Leidigs Exploring

Due back in Carmel the middle of next week, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Leidig are at present exploring Arizona and New Mexico with plans to cross the border into Mexico. Glenn drove south to San Diego first for his yearly Naval Reserve training. When this was completed Marion flew down to meet him and postcards to Carmel friends give news of their journeying in country they have long wished to see.

C-Bees Exchange Visits

On Monday the C-Bees, high school youth group at the Church of the Wayfarer, will welcome to Carmel a group of high school students from the First Congregational Church in Los Angeles who will be their houseguests here until Wednesday.

On Wednesday 38 of Carmel's young people, all C-Bees, will go to Los Angeles to be the guests of the First Congregational youth group. They will travel south by chartered Greyhound bus with C-Bees leader Charles S. Downes. During their southern visit the C-Bees plan to visit Paramount Studios during the filming of a motion picture and spend some time at Disneyland.

Arriolas Move

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Arriola and son, Carlin, have moved to the house "with the stone wall" on Thirteenth Street between Dolores and San Carlos Streets. Carlin likes the location of the new house as it's so near Sunset School, where he is in the fifth grade, and Mrs. Arriola is enjoying the added space in her new home. Mr. Arriola is busy drawing his comic strip, Gordo.

Maj. Gourley on Russian Stamps

Judge R. C. Eldred auctioned the stamps at the meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club held in the Carmel High School, Monday evening.

Colonel John R. Wright, president, announced that dues for membership have been paid in the American Philatelic Society.

Preceding the auction, these members won prizes in stamp guessing games: Frank DiMaggio, Mrs. Fred Houston, Jesse Martin, Mrs. Dolores Martin, John Lindley, Sally Reichard, Alan Wigham and Fred Houston. Phil Kearney won the first door prize and Frank DiMaggio, the second.

Colonel William B. Graham, program chairman, announces that the speaker for the next meeting on April 15 at 8:00 o'clock in Carmel High School will be Major Raymond S. Gourley from the Army Language School. Major Gourley is a former member of this club who has been abroad for six years and now returns to a teaching position in the Russian Department. Major Gourley will discuss the stamps of Russia.

All stamp collectors and their friends on the Monterey Peninsula are invited to attend these meetings.

Children to Be Pages

State Senator Fred Farr and Mrs. Farr are taking their children Sam, Francesca and Nancy to Sacramento on Saturday to be pages in the legislature the following week. Each year, during Easter vacation, children of state legislators are invited to serve as pages. Also making the trip to Sacramento with the Farris to be pages are Mrs. Farr's niece Jill Joyce, and nephew, Nicholas Niven, both from Los Angeles. The Farris are exchanging houses for the week with Mrs. William Hartley of Sacramento who will bring her family to Carmel for their spring vacation.

Costumed Dolls and Talk

Book section of Carmel Woman's Club will be in charge of the meeting to be held Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Hazel McClellan will show her collection of dolls costumed to show the most representative styles from 3000 B.C. to the early 1900s, and will talk on the highlights of these periods and costumes. She will also have with her some of her books on costume.

Miss McClellan is a graduate of a costume design school in Los Angeles, and designs and makes the costumes for the Forest Theatre. She has also made the costumes for two of the productions at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. At present she is starting to dress dolls in peasant costumes of various countries, and will show the five that she has finished.

Tea will be served following the talk.

Mudges in South Dakota

Dr. and Mrs. E. Leigh Mudge are in Rapid City, South Dakota, visiting their son-in-law and daughter, the Reverend and Mrs. Robert Holmes, for several months.

New Flavin Book in Fall

Pulitzer prize winner Martin Flavin will have a psychological novel, Cameron Hill, published in the fall by Harper's. Cameron Hill is the name of a place. In his new book Mr. Flavin shows that during the early formative years of a person's life, a place can be a definite influence. This influence can be traced throughout life, according to Martin Flavin's new book.

Mr. Flavin has had a busy winter. Besides working on Cameron Hill he has been a student at Monterey Peninsula College, taking Spanish and advanced French courses every morning. He is now writing another book and still enrolled at MPC.

Colonel Alexander Speaks

A series of lectures will be given on April 24 at Monterey Union High School by Colonel William B. Alexander, Wing Comptroller at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, on the subject A Look Ahead And About. Colonel Alexander served as state director of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce prior to his entrance into the Army in 1940.

Bill Smith, former printer on the Pine Cone, is now editor and publisher of two weeklies in Plumas County, The Indian Valley Record and The Chester Progressive. He headed his first editorial in his first issues last Thursday, Just Plain Bill, telling his readers,

"I doubt if I will be the smartest editor you've ever had, or the richest—but I intend to be the best."

Bill's wife, Betty, is still here, working three days a week as linotype operator for the Pine Cone. She will leave after school closes to join Bill in Greenville, taking their two children, Patty and Billy Ray, with her.

Award for Mr. Baker

Frank L. Baker, of Carmel, was honored at a banquet given by Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company Tuesday evening at the Lakeside Olympic Club in San Francisco. Mr. Baker is associated with the E. A. Ellis Pacific Mutual General Agency, headquartered in San Francisco. At Tuesday night's affair the company's President T. S. Burnett presented his President's Award to the Ellis organization for leading all agencies of the company throughout the United States in new insurance sales during 1956.

Engagement Told

Airline Stewardess Carol Timbers flew in yesterday from Salt Lake City to announce to her friends her engagement to Mr. Demarest Pope of Rutherford, New Jersey.

Carol graduated from Carmel High School in '52, and attended San Jose State College for two years where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta. She has been with United Airlines for almost a year, flying from Newark, New Jersey as well as from her present base at Salt Lake City. There she has been getting in many skiing days at nearby Alta and Brighton in her time off duty.

Demarest followed up three years of service in the Air Force with two years of college work at Rutgers. Although at present engaged in selling in Newark, he expects to soon transfer activities to the West Coast.

Marriage plans of the young couple have not as yet been announced.

McGill Reunion Saturday

McGill University graduates Frank Lloyd of Carmel and Hilary Belloc of Mill Valley were talking on Saturday night when the telephone rang. Making the call was Reginald Harvey of Montreal, Canada, who was at college with Frank and Hilary but had not seen either of them for 25 years.

Mr. Harvey and his wife, Helen, joined the party and for the next few hours it was "what is so-and-so doing?" and "do you remember?" and "what is McGill and Montreal like now?"

Mr. Belloc came here last weekend to show Carmel to William Phipps who arrived in San Francisco six weeks ago to study at the University of San Francisco. When the Hungarian revolution broke out young Bill Phipps was living in France but soon joined a group who drove a truck to the Austrian-Hungarian border and then spent each night picking up Hungarian refugees and driving them to a collection center in Austria.

He was charmed with Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula as were the Harveys, too, and they intend to return soon.

Kathleen Dormody Born

Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Dormody are parents of a daughter, Kathleen Mary, born on April 1 at the Monterey Hospital. Kathleen weighed six and a half pounds at birth. She is the first granddaughter for Dr. and Mrs. Horace Dormody of Carmel. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Morton J. Dickson of Piedmont. Mrs. Dickson is here visiting her new grandchild. Mr. Dickson came to meet Kathleen last weekend.

Chiangs Have Son

Albert Ted Chiang was born on April 3 at the Monterey Hospital. He is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Chiang. Mrs. Chiang has been living here since December but her husband is still in New Jersey where he has a restaurant. Young Albert surprised his parents by arriving a month before he was expected. In consequence his father has not seen Albert yet but told Mrs. Chiang, by phone, that he is coming as soon as he can find someone to take care of the restaurant for him.

Organ Society Recital

Thomas Hazleton, organist of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, will give a program of Easter music at the church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for members of the Monterey County Hammond Organ Society, their guests and the public. Pamela McFayden, contralto, will sing.

This is the regular monthly meeting of the MCHOS and there will be no charge for admission.

Dr. Barnes Gives Refresher

A refresher seminar in newest and easiest first aid methods will be given by Dr. Margaret Barnes at the Red Cross Chapter House on Wednesday evening from 7:00-9:30 o'clock. All persons interested in enrolling for review and refresher training are asked to phone the Chapter House, MA 4-6921.

JSA Weekend in Bakersfield

Ten Carmel High School students, accompanied by faculty sponsors, Charles Moody and Alan Aldwell, drove to Bakersfield last Friday to attend the semi-annual California Junior Statesmen of America Convention. They returned home on Sunday after a weekend of being junior legislators, dealing with bills brought before the house, electing a new governor and lieutenant governor and attending a banquet Saturday night followed by a Governor's Ball. Carmel High's Junior Statesmen of America Chapter representatives spending the weekend being legislators with students from all over the state were Diana Burk, Lynne Campbell, Judy Drake, Polly Gann, Jennie Hill, David Kahn, Lucinda Lloyd, Terry Shames, Pat Elston and John Williams.

Polly Gann, president of the Carmel High JSA Chapter was elected State Director of Public Relations at the convention. Her private secretary is Lucinda Lloyd, treasurer of the local chapter, who also was appointed director of publicity for the Central Coast Region JSA. Lynne Campbell was chosen regional treasurer at the Bakersfield meetings.

To Live in Evanston

Mrs. Katharine D. Conlan and her two children, Peter and Corinne Alley, left on Tuesday to drive to Santa Fe where they will spend some time before continuing to Evanston, Illinois, where Mrs. Conlan plans to live in the future.

Honor Day Winners

Two Carmel High School students won awards in the Sixth Annual Honor Day last Saturday, at Monterey Peninsula College.

In the engineering and mathematics division, Laszlo Laky won fourth place and Jack Faia took fifth place. They both received honorable mention awards.

Spring Vacation in Mountains

Mrs. Thomas S. Elston and daughters Pat, Jeannie and Helen are leaving on Saturday to stay until Good Friday with Mr. Elston's father, Thomas S. Elston Sr., on his ranch near Coulterville in Mariposa County. They are looking forward to seeing the spring flowers in the Sierra foothills, especially redbud. When they return, Mr. Elston, Sr. will come with them for a week in Carmel.

South Seas Dance

Eighth graders disguised the gymnasium at Sunset School with palms and fishnet, exotic plants and flowers for the South Seas costume party which they had on Friday night. All varieties of South Sea inhabitants were represented by the eighth graders' costumes for the affair which lasted from 8:00-10:00 o'clock, and included games as well as dancing.

Mrs. Veit Visits Grandson

Mrs. Howard Veit returned to Pebble Beach this week from New Rochelle, New York, where she has been visiting her grandson, Thomas Howard Fitzpatrick, born in January to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick (Nancie Veit).

Home for Easter

Pat and Mike Ricketts are due to arrive in Carmel on Friday to spend Easter vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ricketts. They both are students at Fresno State College. Pat is in her sophomore year, majoring in education. Mike, having finished duty with the Marine Corps, entered Fresno State as a freshman after Christmas. He is majoring in physical education.

Home from Conference

Jack J. Cowan and Mrs. Grace P. Douglas of the Carmel Valley Country Day School have returned to the school from the third Pacific Coast Conference of the Secondary Education Board, held last week end in San Francisco. Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg addressed the conference on Science: Its Place in Education and in Society.

Audubon Biennial at Asilomar

The Audubon Biennial Convention—Pacific Coast 1957, will be held at Asilomar April 13-16. Carmelites giving talks or demonstrations on the convention's theme, Life of the Sea and Shore, are Dr. Rolf Bolin, professor of marine biology and oceanography, Stanford University; Miss Enid Larson and a Carmel High School biology class; James Blee, teacher at Sunset School and one of his classes. Subject of the last two demonstrations will be Youths' Use of the Sea and Shore.

Stones First Time Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Louis James Stone (Barbara Wemmer) became first time parents on April 7 with the birth of their daughter, Susan, at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Susan's grandparents are Mrs. Phillips S. Davies of Pebble Beach and Mrs. Edwin J. Stone of Fremont, Michigan, and Monterey.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How sickness as well as sin can be overcome through spiritual understanding of God, divine Principle, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real? is the Golden Text from Psalms (103:2-4): Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction.

In addition to passages from the King James Version of the Bible, selections will be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (406:1-6): The Bible contains the recipe for all healing. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. Sin and sickness are both healed by the same Principle. The tree is typical of man's divine Principle which is equal to every emergency, offering full salvation from sin, sickness, and death.

Music On The Peninsula

By MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The enthusiasm shown by the audience for the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and its conductor, Gregory Millar, at the fourth concert of this season—here Monday and in Salinas Sunday—argues clearly that accomplishment has been achieved beyond that of the past, especially in the Carmel concert. Once again Mr. Millar richly deserved the ovation, along with the applause of the orchestra personnel and their reluctance to rise and share the adulation with him. It was a triumphant evening to which the playing of Gabor Retjo, as guest artist in the Dvorak cello concerto, contributed greatly. His depth and beauty of tone, from the first strong bowing of the cello theme, sang and scintillated throughout the first Allegro and gave the Adagio all its poetic beauty and pathos, and his masterly playing carried the brilliancy of the final Allegro to the heights and depths of Dvorak's famous composition. With it, he inspired the orchestra to unusually good cooperation and was repeatedly recalled.

While the Slav was in evidence throughout the program with the Colas Breugnot Opera Overture by Kabalevsky and the Fifth Symphony by Shostakovich, besides the Dvorak, rendition proved what Millar said in his interesting talk at the Bissantz tea—that Russian music interests because of its bigness and variety and as such has nothing to do with politics. Certainly everyone responded to the laughter of Kabalevsky, and the four movements of the Symphony (which established the fame of Shostakovich) held the audience completely with the strong dissonant whole among long melodic lines. The interesting parts for the cellos in the Largo and the finale, telling passages for the concert-master Francesco Mazzi; oboe, Raymond Duste; flute, Raymond Fabrizio; horn, Joseph Axup; and clarinet, Robert Lee (who were all applauded) showed the unexpected and fascinating innovations the clever Shostakovich had used in orchestration, including the drum effectively handled by Jan DeJong.

All in all, the program was a stirring one, and perhaps, so far, the best performance the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra has technically produced in spite of the difficulty of the compositions chosen, for Millar is able to convey an overall comprehension to his forces and achieve the apparently impossible with the sheer vitality of his concept and vigorous conducting.

The program opened with a Bach Andante for strings as a memorial to the late Earl M. Oren, a devoted friend of the Symphony. Gregory Millar purchased the score of the Andante and donated it to the Earl M. Oren Memorial Music Library, established with donations in memory of Mr. Oren. The Andante was a fitting tribute to one who had served his community. The playing of the lovely theme was followed by a respectful silence.

There was a good audience, but room for more. Let us have the last concert, May 20; a sellout!

Dame Myra Hess in a Beethoven and Bach Recital is, internationally, without a peer as I heard last week in San Francisco. The question of technique is irrelevant for piano technique has reached such heights generally to be no longer amazing. The real musicianship, spiritual perception and interpretation is the yardstick and always must be in the highest art which reflects so much individual conception and feeling of the composer's intent. Of such transcending calibre was the selfless Toscanini, so recently gone on, while Myra Hess in her 50 years of devotion to the listening public rises head and shoulders above the so-called "moderns" who do not achieve the insight and profundity. Having heard and met her in London, Washington, Edinburgh Festival, etc. always with admiration for the musician and woman she is, who earned so much respect from the British Government as to receive the Order of Commander of the British Empire and the gold medal of the London Philharmonic and many other decorations. It seems to me it would be a popular gesture in the efforts to restore harmony between Americans and British if this country could likewise convey some honor upon her, and be using the best medium for peace—music.

Pine Nuts...

A weary, hot, young lady in a Serra School uniform, stopped wheeling her bicycle up San Carlos Street to ask a gas station attendant,

"How much will it cost to fill the air with tires?"

"More than anyone can pay," he said, "but we fill tires with air for free."

President Eben Whittlesey was telling Monterey County Symphony Association board members about the seeming impossibility of raising $3,010 from this community to cover the symphony's expected deficit this year.

"You can't get blood from a turnip," he remarked.

"Uh—Huhhhh!" emphasized his seeing eye dog, Comet. Discussion closed.

should be considerably increased. When the four year tri-county college is built, will not a substantial number of Carmel students attend this state college, (which does not change school districts tuition) instead of Monterey Peninsula Junior College?

The board should appoint a citizens committee as it did before the school bond elections, to study the financial aspects of forming the district, from Carmel's point of view (the state study of need will not be conducted with Carmel's interest in mind.)

Hold public hearings so the people can make known their wishes to the board.

For the board to proceed in any other way is too great an assumption of responsibility and exercise of power.
